Presented by: Michael Trippe LC, MIES

Monday & Wednesday

March 22 & 24, 2010

6:00 pm to 8:30 pm

Rochester Institute of Technology

About the Course

Open to anyone interested

This course is designed for anyone interested in using computer software to help identify and specify proper lighting for a project. This is a hands on class. Every attendee will be at a computer station containing the lighting software [Visual Lighting Software from Acuity Brands]. At the conclusion of the seminar, attendees will also be able to obtain a full licensed copy of the software.

Learning Objectives

- To be able to use lighting calculation software to assist in the proper application of lighting products in both indoor and outdoor environments.
- To understand the language required to appropriately use lighting software.
- To have a better general understanding of the requirements of different lighting applications along with the challenges involved in lighting them.

Who Should Attend

Specifiers [Architects, Engineers, Designers],
 Contractors , End Users or current users of Visual.

Instructor

Michael Trippe LC MIES, Specification Salesman for Point Source Group inc, has been involved in lighting design for 20 years. He graduated from the University of California, San Diego and is a Member of the IES and an LC [Lighting Certified].
